Antioch Legion Drives Through to Semi-finals In County Tournament

Defeats Two Waukegan Teams But Bows to Third Of College Stars

The Antioch American Legion basketball team fought its way to the semi-finals in the annual holiday basketball tournament for independent teams at Waukegan over the weekend, winning from Punchy's tavern and Durkin-Durkin, but losing to Glove.

The local team took Punchy's to the tune of 29 to 26 Friday evening in the opener of the tournament, and then staged the biggest upset of the entire tournament Saturday night by winning from Durkin's 39 to 32.

The Globe Dept. store, a squad composed of former Waukegan High stars now in college, and coached by Otto Graham, Jr., Cleveland Browns' quarterback was just too much for Antioch Sunday, and the Waukegan team won 30 to 23.

The local boys were surprisingly strong against the college stars, playing a good defensive game throughout.

The Antioch lineup comprised Jones, D. Kauffman, and G. Kauffman, forwards; Steffenburg, center; Dressel, Hall and Fields guards.

The Globe team played the strong Libertyville team in the finals Monday night.

Holidays Are Vacation Days for Two Leagues; Ehrhardt's Again on Top

Because of the holidays the Wednesday and Thursday night leagues did not bowl last week nor will they bowl this week. Other leagues continued competition, however.

Women's Handicap League
Last week proved to be one of upsets in the Women's Handicap League. Ehrhardt's now lead the league again with 32 wins and 16 losses. Pagels are in 2nd place with Antioch News in 3rd.

Mildred Nadr broke into the prize list with a 236 game and she now holds the record for high individual game.

The week saw many top-notch scores. The second high game of the evening was Marge Anderson's 199. High series go to Florence Herron, 504, and Ann Rogers 490. The high team scores were Bud's 814 game and 2230 series, Slide Inn's 790 game and Club Villa's 2237 series.

Men's Major League
The Lumber men stepped up production and won two games from Lee's Appliance shop. Kinrade was high for the lumbermen and Kraft for Lee's.

Neilsen's also took new life and won two games from Bussie's. B. Keulman was high for Bussie's and Stomets for Neilsen.

Snow White rolling along in its usual gait won two from Gus and Betty. Ashe was high for Snow White and Horan for Gus and Betty.

Tavern League
Sorenson's Tavern won three games from Antioch Recreation. C. Pachay was high for Sorenson's with 511 and Carl Barthel was high for Recreation with games of 197-170 and 210, a total of 577.

Thor's Club Villa won two games from Pagel's Tavern. G. Schmidt was high for Club Villa with games of 197-217 and 178, a total of 590. Al Pagels was high for Pagels with 545.

Hans and Mabels took two games from John and Joe's Place. L. Koppen, Sr., hit 500 for Hans and Mabels while Al Kasting hit a 531 for John and Joe's.

Thompson's Tavern won two games from Bud's Tavern, although Bud's hit the high single game of the season 1005. Henry Grewe hit 550 for Thompson's and Roy Hyre had a 546 for Bud's.

Joe and Helen's took two games from Ehrhardt's Resort. George Bell hit a 509 for Joe and Helen's. Tom Griffin had 519 for Ehrhardt's.

Pikeville Tavern won two games from Anderson's Tavern. B. Bolton shot 516 for Pikeville. Elroy Anderson had 497 for Anderson's.

1947 Income Tax Forms Available

At Antioch P. O.
Income tax forms for the 1947 year are now available at the Antioch Postoffice, according to Roy I. Kufalk, postmaster.

Kufalk said that all types of forms are now on hand and available to all who wish them. He added that numerous requests for the blanks have been received.

Cand. for State's Attorney

Frank Pat Daly, 36-year old Waukegan attorney, has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for state's attorney of Lake county.

Daly, who served two years as a gunnery officer in the United States navy aboard ships flying both the Atlantic and the Pacific, graduated from the John Marshall Law college in Chicago in 1935 and entered the practice of law in Waukegan in the offices of Runyard and Behanna. Later he opened his own office with Attorney Robert Coulson, and when Coulson joined the staff of the state's attorney's office, Daly continued to practice alone from his offices at 29 N. Genesee st., Waukegan.

Daly has had wide experience in the trail of criminal cases in the circuit and county courts of Lake county which he believes would be of great value in his conduct of the office of state's attorney should he be elected by the people.

His entrance into the state's attorney's race marks his first venture in politics.

Daly lives with his wife and three children at 1521 N. Jackson st., Waukegan.

Antioch Nips Wauconda But Bows to Northbrook In Invitational Tourney

After winning from Wauconda 33 to 21 in the first round of play at the Wauconda invitational basketball tourney Friday night, Antioch High lost to Northbrook in the final game Saturday 50 to 35.

The Sequoits proved that their victory in overtime play at Wauconda two weeks previous was no accident by setting down to business at the very outset of the game. The score at the half, however, was but 8 to 7 in favor of the Sequoits and it was in the final period of the game that the local boys established their big lead to win.

Northbrook nosed out McHenry the same night 38 to 36 to keep the honors in the Northwest Conference.

The scores of Saturday night's games are somewhat confusing. McHenry that held Northbrook down to a two-point victory won from Wauconda 28 to 17, both teams turning up shy in field goals. On the other hand Northbrook, despite Antioch's defense, poured the field goals in with regularity.

Lesch, the big Northbrook center was the thorn in Antioch's side Saturday. He scored 11 field goals. The Sequoits started out strong and led at the first quarter 9 to 5. By the half Northbrook was ahead 20 to 17 and in the third quarter led 35 to 29. The final quarter saw Antioch's collapse.

Antioch will have another chance at Northbrook next week, however, when the Vikings come here for a game on Friday night.

Arthur Meyers' Anniversary Over Radio

Heartily congratulations were the order of the day recently at Prairie Farmer-WLS in Chicago, when Mr. and Mrs. Arthur P. Meyers of Lake Villa, visited the studios during the Dinner Bell program, celebrating their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. By way of celebration, Mrs. Meyers herself opened the program by ringing the big dinner bell. Just before the couple were interviewed on the air by Arthur C. Page, associate editor of Prairie Farmer and conductor of this oldest continuous farm program, the WLS Concert Orchestra honored them by playing the Wedding March.

The Meyers observed their wedding anniversary on Dec. 14, but appeared on the program on the nineteenth. They were accompanied by their son-in-law, Leo Biele of Corydon, Ia.

Will Erase Indebtedness On Parking Meters by September--Rosenfeldt

Nice Income to Add Patrolman Seen Thereafter By Trustee

Antioch's parking meters will be paid for by next September and the village should have an income of $8,000 a year for police expenses at the present rate of income, Arthur Rosenfeldt, chairman of the village finance committee estimated this week.

Although the income from the meters is uncertain for the rest of the winter, it is keeping up well at present, he said.

The meters were installed the latter part of June at a cost of about $8,000. Rosenfeldt estimated that at the present rate and with a heavy take during the busy season next summer only a little more than a year will be needed to clear up the indebtedness.

The finance chairman said that thereafter he estimated a cost of 25 per cent for repairs and replacements. Already the meters are costing $17 a month for repairs because of vandalism.

If the Duncan Meter Corp., is paid an amount approaching $8,000 in a little over a year the city because of its 25 per cent share of the profit will at the same time receive $2,000 not to mention an income on the over parking ticket revenue.

On this basis the village would get from meters alone $8,000 a year, less the 25 per cent cost of replacement, making a net profit of $6,000 for use in hiring a night patrolman.

But all of this is merely counting chickens before they are hatched.

Daffy Mishaps Occur On Illinois Farms IAA Reports for 1947 Show

There's always something new in the way of farm accidents. A survey of 1947 farm accidents just completed by W. W. Whitlock, director of health and safety for the Illinois Agricultural association, reveals some "daffy" mishaps.

Here are a few. An ear of corn thrown out of a corn cutter fractured a farmer's jaw. In another case a soybean pierced a combine operator's eye.

Livestock accidents also account for some of the unusual. One dairyman kicked a cow and suffered a fractured toe. He said he became disgusted because the cow wouldn't stand still while he was milking her.

A hog producer suffered a fractured leg when a large porker ran into him.

Counting hogs sounds like a safe occupation but one farmer suffered severe hand injuries in such a job. He was sitting on a post counting hogs when the post broke.

And there's nothing to the old saying about lightning never striking twice in the same place. An Illinois farm wife was struck by lightning in her home in 1947, repeating an occurrence of two years ago.

Rescuer Is Rescued

Other miscellaneous accidents include a farmer who tried to rescue a puppy from a well and fell in himself; a man who broke his ankle while chasing a dog away from his sheep; and a boy who punctured his lung in a fall on a broken concrete sidewalk.

Tractor mishaps probably will head the 1947 Illinois farm accident list, the IAA safety director said, although final tabulation of reports has not been made. Most of these accidents involve the operator falling from the tractor. This is believed to be due to the increased speed of the modern tractor and lack of caution in tractor operation on curves and near ditches. In the early days of tractors, cranking caused most of the injuries.

Whitlock believes that the mechanical corn picker will have the highest toll for 1947.

There also were more lightning and hunting accidents on Illinois farms in 1947 than in the previous year, Whitlock said.

Nelson's Grill To Reopen Next Wed.

With redecoration almost completed today Bob Nelson, proprietor of Nelson's Grill, said that the Grill would reopen on Wednesday, January 7th.

The walls and ceilings have been repainted and other alterations and improvements have been made, and Nelson said that he was certain that all work would be completed in time for the opening.

I. C. C. Sets Jan. 15 as Date of Hearings on Soo Line Crossing Petition

The Illinois Commerce commission has set 10 a. m. Jan. 15, as the time of hearing on Antioch's petition for a grade crossing of the Soo line between Ida and Chestnut streets.

The village has asked that it be permitted to establish a crossing at lot 10 at this point to gain access to its gravel pit and recreation grounds east of the railroad.

President George B. Bartlett, Attorney George McGaughey, Elmer Rentner and James Stearns, former trustees are among those who will go from the village. Rentner and Stearns are going to testify that a railroad official promised the village a crossing at the point desired at any time they might need it. This promise was later repudiated by a higher official of the road.

The village will contend that the crossing is necessary for access to the pit to dump village refuse, and to get to the recreation grounds.

The hearing will be at the ICC rooms on the 19th floor of 160 La Salle St., Chicago.

Resorts All Set For Gala Evening New Year's Eve

Resorts and taverns of the region are in readiness for the large crowds of merry makers expected to be abroad this evening. Most reports indicate that capacity crowds will attend the various spots featuring special entertainment for the holiday.

Among night spots of the region who will promote special parties are Trunagle's, located 1 mile south of Antioch where a special party featuring a free buffet lunch served after 12 o'clock, and favors and noisemakers will be distributed. Although a good many parties have already made reservations there, Paul Trunagle owner said today that sufficient room for a good many more would be available.

John and Joe's Place, at Loon Lake, will feature a special party for the New Year's celebration as will The Stork at Trevor, where favors and a turkey lunch will be on hand.

The Lake View resort at Channel Lake, formerly Lindquist's resort, and now under new management, will feature a party with a buffet lunch and favors.

Charley Haling of Haling's resort, Grass Lake, announces in today's News that the annual New Year's Eve party, an annual event at the popular spot, will be in full swing as usual.

Several Pets Poisoned At Lake Villa Recently

Lake Villa is greatly aroused over the poisoning of pet dogs and cats that has taken place recently.

According to reports Harry Brownlee let his dog "Sailor" out for a run of 15 minutes and some time later it died in agony. A few days later the female, Lassie, and her three puppies were poisoned in the same manner. The sad part of the situation is that the dogs belonged to the little daughter who is in a cast in a hospital, and they are reluctant to tell her.

Another victim was the little dog of Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong in Oak Lane Dr., which was missing a week. Cats belonging to a neighbor also were poisoned.

People in that community are said to be afraid to let their little children out for fear they may pick up poisoned food.

President Bartlett Sees '48 as Good Year for Antioch

Warns Against Over Spending To Keep Finances Out of the Red

President Geo. B. Bartlett foresaw for Antioch a prosperous new year but warned that the village must go slow on its governmental expenditures to keep out of the red.

Completion of the sewage system and septic tanks by early spring is in the cards and the creek leading to the lakes is to be cleaned before the winter is over.

"We don't want to be in a position to take any blame for any contamination of the lakes," said the village president.

Next as a 1948 accomplishment will be the new building for the fire department. It is probable that the contract for that building will be let some time next month.

President Bartlett said the local banks have agreed to take the $20,000 worth of bonds and may also take the $35,000 sewage disposal plant bonds. Cost Now $12,000.

Turning to finances President Bartlett said the village expenses are crowding the income and that any new enterprise must first see an adequate source for income. He referred to the plan for a night patrolman and stated that the merchants must give financial help to the village to pay for additional police services.

The levy for 1948 was $6,424.28 which is a probable income with $200 fees and costs to come out. Licenses estimated at $3,250; and other incomes are expected to bring the total to $12,250.

Police salaries at $600 a month, the Public Service Co., bill of $150 a month, a clerk's fee of $100 a month means a cost of $10,200, he said while the annual wage of the treasurer at $300, legal counsel $500, trustees totalling $600, and miscellaneous items at $200, with other items bring the total cost within the $12,000 range.

Has Good Man in Prospect
"It would cost us in salary $250 a month to get an experienced patrolman, and $50 a month additional for his car expense making a total cost of around $3,000," the president said.

Bartlett said he already had a good man for the job in mind but said he could not get him unless guaranteed a permanent job. The person is a trained deputy sheriff.

The president said that taxation of merchants in the past has not proved popular but added that the business men could handle the problem in their own way just so the money is produced.

Felix Haas Jailed On Contempt Charge In Gambling Quiz

Felix Haas, brother and employee of Haas, pinball king of Waukegan, was sentenced to sixty days in jail for refusal to answer questioning before the grand jury Tuesday.

Haas, who had been brought before the grand jury for questioning in connection with the gambling probe, along with employees of the Vernon Country Club and the White House, refused to answer question and was taken before Circuit Judge Ralph Dady by Special Police Officer Alvin Ruesch. Ruesch had been appointed by Dady to act as police officer for the gambling investigation.

Okel S. Fuqua, special prosecutor, also appointed by Dady for the investigation, asked that Haas be held in contempt of court.

"The Disease of Government"

The worst problem confronting the world today is what might be called, "the disease of government."

The whole history of civilization since the dawn of time has been the story of man's struggle against oppression. Every school child is required to study the great milestones in that struggle—the signing of the Magna Carta, the writing of the Declaration of Independence, and the rest. All the revolutions ever fought have marked the attempts of peoples to free themselves from the chains of emperors, dictators, and corrupt and cruel governments.

Now almost all of Europe and much of the rest of the world have turned back the clock. They have, willingly or otherwise, succumbed once more to super-government. They have apparently placed the goal of a dubious physical security ahead of that of freedom. They have accepted the disciplinary weapons of dictatorship—the whipping post, the execution block, the concentration camp, slave labor. Even England, though she still clings to the basic civil liberties, has gone a long way down the road that can end only in spiritual darkness and the submersion of the individual spirit.

In the United States, we have gone farther along the same road than most of us realize. We have created an enormous, ever-growing bureaucracy which saps our energies and our wealth. Worst of all, we have largely lost the definite distinctions established by the Constitution between the three branches of government—executive, judicial, and legislative. The result of this is more and more "administrative government"—which is simply supplanting a government of law by a government of men.

Nations, like individuals, can learn by example. Europe is showing us what happens when we turn to government to give us "security"—and, of necessity, make government the dominant factor in our lives. This is the way that tyrants come to power, and the process has not changed in two thousand years of recorded history. If we permit it, it can happen here as well.

Good Management

One argument of those who oppose railroad rate increase is that the lines' unhappy financial situation is the result of bad management.

This point of view factually refuted in the Chicago Journal of Commerce by Wilbur J. Brons, who observes that "carrier management has been, on the whole, about as good as management in any other major industry." One index of the efficiency of management lies in its ability to reduce fixed charges, and here, according to figures cited by Mr. Brons, the railroads have made a splendid record. In the five-year period 1941-45, the roads reduced their funded debt by nearly $2,000,000,000—and almost $1,300,000,000 of this was achieved by purchasing and retiring securities, with the balance credited to reorganizations. Looking at the situation another way, in 1927, the fixed charges of Class I railroads amounted to $681,000,000 a year—by 1946 they had been reduced to $469,000,000.

Those who had studied railroad operation most thoroughly and dispassionately have praised the high standards of efficiency achieved. The industry plans to further reduce fixed charges as rapidly as possible, even as it has very ambitious plans for improving equipment, and quality and speed of service. But all of this progress is directly dependent on rates which will permit a reasonable profit and a reasonable return on the gigantic railroad investment. The railroads' present petition for higher rates, like those of the past, is the result of conditions wholly beyond their control. An industry which is starved financially cannot give the nation the service it must have.

Keeping Pace

A good many people regard coal as a primitive industry, which has kept pretty well out of the stream of progress. But the truth is, as James D. Francis, president of the Island Creek Coal Company of Huntington, W. Va., recently pointed out, "The coal industry in productive efficiency and preparation of its product has kept pace with American industry generally."

There can be no comparison between the standards of coal mining here and abroad. If the American mines had the low productive efficiency of the British mines, it would require 2,000,000 men to mine the 600,000,000 tons of soft coal we produce each year—as contrasted with the 400,000 actually employed. And, of necessity, each miner would receive a far smaller return than the record wages he now enjoys. The highest engineering skill has been and is being used in the planning, development, and equipment of American mines.

Another little-known fact is that there has been remarkable progress, resulting from research on the part of coal companies and manufacturers of burning equipment, in the efficiency of coal as a fuel from the user's point of view. The 600,000,000 tons of coal produced in 1944 generated about 50 per cent more heat, light, power and energy than the equivalent tonnage generated in 1918. Even the diesel locomotive, excellent as it is, is now facing tough competition from a new type coal-driven gas turbine locomotive.

Coal has many problems. But it is meeting them—and in the typical constructive fashion that characterizes free enterprise at its best.

Rationing Would Not Produce More Oil

The proposal for the government to again be given authority to ration and fix the price of gasoline would in no way solve the oil problem and would, to the contrary, intensify it. That opinion was recently expressed by the top executive of one of the country's principal oil companies. He said:

"No matter how well-meant they may be, government efforts to 'divide shortages fairly' will not produce a single extra gallon of oil. They will only discourage the normal processes of free competition in which 34,000 oil companies are now vying with each other trying to keep up with the greatest demand for oil products in all history."

The magnitude of the oil industry's achievements is not as widely known as it deserves to be. The end of the war, instead of bringing the expected decline in demand for oil, brought an ever-increasing demand. The industry is producing more oil products—and better quality oil products—than ever before. The shortages which have occurred have been relatively minor, have been spotty and short-lived in nature, and have been in large part the result of transportation and storage difficulties, which, in turn, are caused by shortages of various kinds.

So far as prices are concerned, the increase in oil prices has been moderate, and generally below that of other commodities. The government's own index shows that petroleum still costs less than in 1926—while the price level for all commodities recently was at 153.6 per cent of 1926.

Even now, the oil company executive said, "The margin between demand and supply is small and could be erased by only a little voluntary effort by consumers to hold down their needs while the industry works furiously to provide more facilities to enlarge the supply." Rationing would be a ruinous mistake in the case of oil or anything else.

HOW TO SAVE HALF THE WINTER FUEL BILL TOLD BY UNIVERSITY

Rising coal and fuel oil prices give added point information released by the Small Homes Council at the University of Illinois telling about home insulation, which can save as much as one-half the winter fuel bill—one shovel of coal from every two.

Fifty per cent is the saving estimate for a typical two-story frame house with wood or shingle siding to which tight storm windows and doors, four inches of insulation between ceiling joist and three and five-eighths inches between wall studs is applied.

The facts about insulation and fuel saving, many resulting from years of careful research at the University, are presented in a free eight page non-technical circular. The high spot in it is a table showing reductions in a fuel bill possible in eight typical types of construction for one-story and two-story homes.

Benefits of insulation, the circular says, include greater comfort by making walls and window surfaces warmer, reducing drafts, and making heat more uniform; cooler houses in summer; and money saved by reducing fuel needs and requiring a smaller heating plant or less load on existing equipment. Also walls and ceilings are cleaner because dust and dirt do not gather on warm surfaces as they do on cold.

Good insulation will not attract insects and mice and will not form fire hazard, will not absorb moisture and get soggy and will not deteriorate or settle, the circular explains.

SOCIETY EVENTS

Antioch Girl Married to Georgia Musician, Howes Mem. Chapel

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Walker Gurney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Becker, to Donald N. Morrison, of Athens, Georgia, took place Saturday, December 27, in the Howes Memorial chapel, Evanston. Miss Gurney was given in marriage by her father.

The bride wore a gray suit with pink accessories, she carried pink roses with a white prayer book.

A reception for fifty guests was held following the ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Becker in Evanston.

Mr. and Mrs. Morrison expect to make their home at Athens, Ga., where Mr. Morrison is a faculty member of the music department at the University of Georgia.

Cosmopoliteens at Lake Villa Arrange New Year's Dance

The Cosmopoliteens will present their first formal dance New Year's Eve, at the Lake Villa gymnasium, a dance intended to be an annual affair. Committees have been working exclusively on this event for the past two months and the fruits of their labors are rapidly becoming evident.

The decorating committee has been busy decorating the floor with two tons of evergreens with one huge evergreen, gayly decorated and lighted occupying the center of the floor. With indirect lighting and blues predominating the trees and finally the hundred of stars individually hung from the ceiling the effect should be truly a "Winter Wonderland," which is the motif of the dance.

The entertainment committee promises a high class entertainment between dances all furnished by Cosmopoliteens.

The refreshment committee has planned to serve fruit punch and tid bits throughout the evening. A unique serving table with the punch bowl atop a white sled drawn by a white reindeer, will undoubtedly add to the spirit of the occasion.

Many other committees are active, such as the patrons committee, the program committee, the finance committee, etc., utilizing practically the entire membership of the club on the single purpose of making the dance a most unique and successful entertainment. No drinking is allowed as it is against the rules of the club.

The Cosmopoliteens is an organization of teen age boys and girls of high ideals. It is non-sectarian and its membership is open to all young people of high school age. Its purpose as stated in a constitution now being drawn is to seek for the development of all their talents, and to create a favorable environment for themselves to this end. The official colors of the group recently approved are blue and white. The meaning applied by them to these colors best expresses the group's purpose, that is the white stars of light for enlightenment the blue, blue of the heavens, which interpreted means "Enlightenment on all things under the heavens."

Put Away Dark Glasses, There'll Be No Eclipses For Antioch This Year

Americans who carry a piece of smoked glass in their pockets, to look at eclipses due in the heavens, are in for disappointment this year. According to K. A. Gunnar Strand, director of Dearborn Observatory and head of the astronomy department at Northwestern University, there will be no solar eclipse visible in the United States during 1948. For that matter, the heavenly schedule will cheat eclipse enthusiasts almost entirely. Of the three eclipses promised by the solar system, only one, a lunar eclipse on April 23, will be visible at all in this country, and then just in the far western reaches of the California coast.

On May 8 and 9 there will be an annular eclipse of the sun, whose path will begin south of India, cross Thailand, the east coast of China, Korea, the northern Japanese islands, the Aleutians, and finally end 500 miles off Canada in the Pacific Ocean. In an annular eclipse, the moon is so far from the earth to cover the sun completely, a circumstance manifested by a rim of light around the moon's silhouette. In the case of the May 8th eclipse, Dr. Strand explained, the annular eclipse will be so close to being total that there is a possibility that a total eclipse of very short duration will occur.

The third eclipse, to take place on Nov. 1, will be a total one beginning in Central Africa, crossing the southern portion of the Indian Ocean, and ending north of New Zealand without touching land after leaving the east coast of Africa. Maximum duration of totality will not exceed two minutes.

Library News

For the Christmas season, three fine collections of children's stories have been presented to the library in memory of Mrs. Homer LaPlant.

"The Fairy Ring" and "Tales of Laughter" were edited by the well loved Kate Douglas Wiggin and Nora Archibald Smith. "The Fairy Ring" has the finest of the lesser known fairy stories of the world. "Tales of Laughter" has the humorous fairy tales and fables that have delighted children for centuries. They are full of nonsense and irresistible humor.

"Good Stories for Great Holidays," compiled by Frances Jenkins Oleott, is arranged for story telling and reading aloud as well as for the children's own reading. Teachers and parents, as well as the children, will be glad of stories appropriate for holiday reading and story telling.

U. S. Agriculture Dept. Rural Reading List is Sent to Local Library

Secretary of State Edward J. Barrett, state librarian, has announced that copies of the U. S. Department of Agriculture library's rural reading list have been sent to all public and association libraries and home advisors in Illinois by the Illinois State Library.

The list was compiled by the rural library committee of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and is being issued in cooperation with the Illinois State Library, Mr. Barrett said.

Practically all of the material listed in the 40-page booklet is available at the state library and may be borrowed by Illinois residents either individually or through organized groups, Secretary Barrett said.

The list covers a wide range of topics, from agricultural economics to science and technology, placing special emphasis on their application to rural life, he said.

The topics, under each of which 10 or more books are listed as recommended reading, are: Agricultural economics, rural sociology, political science and history, creative living, education, religion and philosophy, home economics and science and technology.

Secretary Barrett pointed out that rural residents may consult the list either at their local libraries or through their home advisors. Whatever reading material listed is not available at those sources may be requested through the Illinois State Library, he said. Residents of areas without library facilities may write directly to the state library, he added.

Once Again we greet the New Year in the traditional manner—with pealing bells, with fun and gaiety, laughter and music.

Despite his ingenuity, man still persists in "watching the old year out and greeting the new year" in almost the identical manner of his forefathers.

In that same identical manner, we extend our traditional New Year's greeting to you:

MAY HEALTH, HAPPINESS
AND PROSPERITY BE YOURS TODAY AND
THROUGHOUT THE NEW YEAR

ALL HAIL TO THE NEW YEAR

—Alfred Tennyson—

"Ring out the old, ring in the new,
Ring, happy bells, across the snow;
The year is going, let him go;
Ring out the false, ring in the true."

As the glad bells peal out at the stroke of midnight to mark the passing of the old year and the arrival of the new, we pause for a moment to express our appreciation for the confidence, friendship and good will which have been extended to us during the past year and to extend our best wishes for a bright and happy New Year.

Welcome — 1948!

When the old year with his flowing robe and long whiskers gives way to the new year cherub with his telescope set on a fruitful year ahead, we are always sure that the new twelvemonth will be better—and it generally is!

Young Mr. 1948 will prove no exception, we are sure, and so we again greet you with the hope that the traditional faith and good will which always mark the advent of the New Year will bring their reward in the form of an improved community this year.

Chevrolet Made Million Cars and Trucks in 1947

With the production today of its 1,000,000th vehicle in 1947, Chevrolet became the first single company in the automobile industry to manufacture a million cars and trucks a year since before the war.

Announcement of the production milestone was made by Nicholas Dreystadt, general manager of the Chevrolet Motor Division, who said all of the vehicles were made in the plants of Chevrolet in the United States, and that the total does not include Canadian output.

The 1,000,000 total, Dreystadt said, includes passenger cars, trucks and commercial vehicles. The last time Chevrolet manufactured 1,000,000 vehicles a year before 1947 was in 1941, when domestic production reached 1,173,799 units.
